

Polar Bear's Weekly Newsletter

13.9.24

This week in Polar Bears...

We have been investigating sunflowers! We have made potions and soup with them in the mud kitchen and looked at Van Gogh's painting. We then had a go at painting our own sunflower pictures. We have also been talking about ourselves so we can get to know each other better. We have learnt about diamond power and ruby power and have started earning gems for problem solving and being kind to others. Polly Polar Bear will begin her weekend travels this afternoon and will be coming home with one of the children. There is no expectation to do anything special with Polly but if you want to record what she did with your child there is a book to do so.

We are celebrating...

After reading the story 'A Superpower Like Mine' we talked about our own superpowers and about how special we are. Some of us made our own superpower badges!

Next week...

Monday at 3.40pm is the 'meet and greet' session which is an opportunity for you to find out more about classroom routines/PE days and learning topics for the autumn term and see what the children have done so far.
Thursday at 10am is the Year R welcome service with Reverend Chris in the school hall which you are warmly invited to attend.
We will be learning about our feelings with the Colour Monster story.

How can you support our learning?

After finishing our first full week at school we are very tired. An opportunity to snuggle up with you watching a favourite film or sharing a favourite story would be great. Have a great weekend.
