Dear Parents and Carers,

Safer Internet Day

Well done to our Cyber Ambassadors who led on very important online safety messages this week linked to Tuesday's Safer Internet Day. Children took part in the Safer Internet Day BBC live lesson and had the opportunity to make a poster around online safety. They carried out different age appropriate activities across the day. This day always supplements and supports the work we do across the curriculum on online safety throughout the year and is an important part of our safeguarding work.

MHST workshop for Parents/Carers - date for your diary

We would love you to join us in school on Tuesday 24th March at 9am-10.30am for a coffee and a pastry whilst the Mental Health Support Team lead us in their 'Managing Emotional Dysregulation' workshop for parents/carers. We have had great recommendations about this workshop and we hope it will offer top tips and practical strategies in an informal setting.

Parent Consultations

Thank you for joining us for your Parent Consultations this week. If you haven't yet had a meeting with your child's teacher, they will be in contact after half term.

Year 2 Victorian Day

Dolphin Class enjoyed being immersed in the Victorian classroom on Thursday. They all looked just the part — thank you for organising such super costumes! The children tell me they particularly enjoyed having to copy out Victorian handwriting (they said is was easier than their usual English work!) and waggling their flat caps to make the strict Victorian teacher put them in the corner! They all had a great day and enjoyed looking at some of the Victorian records the school has from when the school was first opened.

Date for your Diary

World Book Day will soon be upon us on Thursday 5th March so children/parents might want to have a think about possible favourite books/ costumes over half term. Further details to follow, but as always there is no pressure re: costumes—snuggling up with a good book and wearing pyjamas to school on this day is great too!

Bags of Hope

A huge thank you to Winchester University and the trainee teachers who worked with our Year 6 children today on the Diocese project 'Bags of Hope.' The children look forward to sharing this work with you later in the term.

Wishing you all a wonderful half term!
Kind regards
Jane Hall, Headteacher
