Dear Parents and Carers,

Well, what a wet and soggy week it has been! We have got the children outside as much as possible and they have done a great job . A quick reminder to please bring coats in school at all times during the winter months - we have some children without coats today and they really need to be ready to put them on according to the weather. We do have a few unlabelled in lost property. Thank you!

Punctuality

A big well done and thank you as everyone is working hard to ensure the children are in class and ready to learn by 8.55 am each morning. We have seen a real improvement in this and the children are happy and settled at the start of the day.

Clubs

Children attending clubs have been very busy, creating and making some wonderful artwork and models. Tapping into the snow we had last week, Art Club have created their own 'snowy owl' pictures. They are each so individual and have such lovely expressions on their faces— do come and take a look in the school entrance—they really lift the spirits!

Young Explorers have been busy making their own castles and are now working on the knights and dragons to go in them!

Dance Club children are busy preparing a dance routine which they would love to share with parents on Monday 9th February at 4.40 pm - please do come along if you can.

Year 5 children have started their Listen2Me recorder lessons with Hampshire Music Service this week. The children look forward to demonstrating their recorder skill later this term in their concert for parents. Details to follow.

Wishing you all a nice weekend.

Kind regards, Jane Hall, Headteacher

Collective Worship this week…

This week we have considered the meaning of 'Responsibility' and reflected on the story told in the Bible about the Two Sons. We reflected on how we can be responsible citizens and will continue to think about the meaning of responsibility and what this looks in action over the next half term.
